Stock Market Slide Is Gathering Momentum

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's rough, very rough now," a leading Wall Street broker says of the stock market slump that has erased an estimated $100 billion from the value of stocks in the last two months.

The market Thursday suffered its worst beating in four consecutive days of decline and hit another 1969 low. It has been on the skids since reaching its 1939 high May 14.

"Once the slide gets going it sort of gathers momentum. There's no way to tell how far it will go," said the broker, Eldon A. Grimm, senior vice president of Walston & Co.

"There is a lot of cash on the sidelines but investors apparently are waiting to see when the market is going to hit rock bottom. The bottom will be made in the next two or three months. Then we will go into a fairly good bull market."

Reasons

The market's retreat has been attributed to a variety of reasons. These include record interest rates, uncertainty about congressional action on extending the income surtax, apprehension about business prospects, disenchantment over the lack of substantial progress in the Vietnam peace talks and worry over the heating up of the Middle East situation.

When the market attained its 1969 high on May 14, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials stood at 968. It closed Thursday at 847.79 on a drop of 13.83 points for the day. The two-month loss is about 12 per cent.

Trading has been on a moderate scale during the decline. Many investors have switched into municipal bonds, which are yielding income of about 8 per cent against an average of 4 per cent for common stocks.

High Interest

High interest rates are making it very costly for corporations to raise money. For example, Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. sold $150 million of debentures Wednesday at a record interest cost of slightly more than 8 per cent.

The rise in interest rates to record levels was triggered by the Federal Reserve Board's clamping down on the amount of money available for lending to banks and increasing its interest rate in an effort to stem inflation. The banks, in turn, boosted rates.

"The (market decline) is something we have been anticipating for six months," said Harold Dorsey, chairman of Argus Research Corp., a New York investment advisory organization. "When you have tight money—one of the tightest situations this century—it's bound to have an effect on business."

Bottom

"I say that there is nothing to tell how deep we are going to go. It's too early to define the depths of the valley or the breadth of the valley."

Thieu's Voting Proposal Opens End To War: Nixon

New Soviet Policy Encouraging

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moscow's latest foreign policy outline has encouraged Nixon administration officials who hope for an era of improving East-West relations.

Specifically, the policy speech delivered Thursday by Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to the Soviet parliament:

—Made no reference to President Nixon's Romanian visit—thus supporting Washington speculation that whatever displeasure the Soviets feel over Nixon's call at the maverick Communist state, they are not going to make a public issue of it.

—Dropped a broad hint of Kremlin interest in a U.S.-Soviet summit meeting sometime in the future.

Administration sources said Nixon has no plans for a Moscow stop during his globe-circling trip starting late this month. Gromyko's words likewise indicated Soviet consideration of a possible top-level meeting later, rather than now.

The Soviet foreign affairs spokesman referred to the possibility by noting what Nixon himself has said: "The U.S. President's pronouncements in favor of jointly prepared Soviet-American summit meeting have not, of course, gone unnoticed in the Soviet Union," Gromyko said.

Except for the Glassboro, N.J., meeting between Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Johnson in 1967, there has been no U.S.-Soviet summit session since President John F. Kennedy's parley with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in Vienna seven years ago.

Khrushchev came to the United States in 1959 at President Dwight D. Eisenhower's invitation. It is assumed in both Washington and Moscow a return invitation for that visit is still up to the Soviets.

In a general way, Gromyko's remarks about relations with the United States were described here as bearing positive elements.

He said the Soviets attach great importance to relations with America and "are for developing good relations." Concerning Nixon's policy favoring an era of talks rather than confrontation, he said "The Soviet Union stands for talks."

On the proposed strategic arms limitation talks Gromyko said the Soviets are ready to start "the exchange of opinions."

Gromyko said too that the Soviet Union "has begun the ratification" of the treaty to bar the spread of nuclear weapons.

If Reds Want Peace, It Offers Fair Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today new peace proposals by President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam "should open the way at last for a rapid settlement" of the Vietnam war—if the Communists will begin serious negotiations.

In a lengthy statement hailing Thieu's suggestions for a political approach to a settlement, Nixon said:

"If the other side genuinely wants peace, it now has a comprehensive set of offers which permit a fair and reasonable settlement. If it approaches us in this spirit, it will find us reasonable. Hanoi has nothing to gain by waiting."

Readiness

Nixon noted that at his June 8 Midway Island meeting with Thieu, the two presidents "declared our readiness to accept any political outcome which is arrived at through free elections."

The President described Thieu's proposals as marking "the culmination of a long series of steps by the South Vietnamese and American governments all of which together demonstrate clearly the sincere desire of our two governments to negotiate an honorable and rapid settlement of the war."

In saying he and Thieu have declared themselves ready to accept any outcome arrived at through free elections Nixon underlined the word "any."

Ronald L. Ziegler, White House press secretary, said there had been general consultation between Saigon and Washington during the preparation of Thieu's speech inviting the Communists to participate in free elections to be supervised by an international body.

Advanced Text

Ziegler said the White House had a full text of Thieu's remarks before they were delivered. He likened the consultation to that which preceded the May 14 television-radio address putting forward an eight-point peace plan.

The presidential spokesman, responding to questions, left open the possibility that a review of further withdrawals of U.S. combat troops from South Vietnam, promised for late August, might be accelerated should the current lull in ground fighting continue.

However, he said that while the level of fighting was being watched and assessed carefully, it was too early to determine whether it represented a meaningful "signal" from the other side.

News In Brief

BOSTON (AP) — The 1st U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed today the conviction of Dr. Benjamin Spock on a charge of conspiring to counsel young men to avoid the draft.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has decided tentatively that federal subsidies should be offered to encourage state and municipal governments to finance improvements with bonds which carry taxable interest.

SAIGON (AP) — While the lull in ground fighting continues, American forces are keeping pressure on elements of four enemy divisions in the 3rd Corps area, from Saigon to the Cambodian border.

Countdown On For Apollo 11

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With the countdown for their moon landing mission under way, the Apollo 11 astronauts today receive their final major prelaunch physical examination.

Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins planned several hours with doctors. The exam determines if they are healthy for their demanding eight-day flight and also provides baseline heart rate, respiration and other data for in-flight and postflight comparison.

For the past month, doctors have been drawing complete medical profiles of the three spacemen, who are to start their voyage to the moon at 9:32 a.m. EDT next Wednesday. Previous major physicals were completed June 16 and July 1.

The information will be particularly important when Armstrong and Aldrin walk on the lunar surface July 21. It will provide clues to when the astronauts might be tiring in the unfamiliar one-sixth gravity field on the moon.

While the astronauts are on the surface, doctors in the mission control center will monitor heart rate, oxygen consumption and the temperature of the suit-cooling water as it enters and leaves the system. The latter will be an indirect measurement of the amount of heat produced by the body.

The lengthy countdown for the launching of the mammoth rocket started on schedule at 8 p.m. Thursday after two technicians climbed into a first stage fuel tank to find and stop a leak in the helium pressurization system.

They corrected the problem by tightening a nut at the base of a helium storage bottle. The helium is used to pressurize the fuel tank and operate certain valves.

Retail Sales Declined In June

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department reported Thursday that the nation's retail sales declined in June for the second consecutive month, dropping one per cent to an adjusted estimate of $28.9 billion.

The estimate, however, was about two per cent above June 1968 sales.

Psychic To Help Solve Murders

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Self-proclaimed psychic Peter Hurkos is coming to Ann Arbor to try to help solve the string of seven slayings of young women law enforcement officials said Thursday.

He was used by police investigating the Boston strangler cases several years ago.

Hurkos is reportedly being brought from Los Angeles by Ann Arbor real estate agent Archie Allen.

Seven women have been slain in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area since 1967, five this summer. The last, Margaret Phillips was shot Saturday and died Sunday. An ex-convict has been charged with her murder, but no arrests have been made in any of the other six slayings.

Hurkos, a former Dutch house painter, claims he gained psychic powers when he fell from a ladder in 1941.

Washtenaw County Prosecutor William Delhey indicated something less than overwhelming enthusiasm for Hurkos' visit.

"I myself don't believe in fortune tellers, soothsayers or clairvoyants," he said. "If I were paying his fee you'd have to have change for a nickel."

He also said Hurkos would get no special privileges from police working on the cases. "He'll get no more information than the press or anyone else," Delhey said.

Ann Arbor Police Chief Walter Krasny indicated Delhey would decide what information would be given to Hurkos.

Krasny said the decision to allow Hurkos to come was made "since we couldn't control whoever wanted to bring him in." He noted, however, that no city or county money would go toward Hurkos' fee.

Backs Into Ditch; Driver Killed

YPSILANTI (AP)—A construction worker, Lado Bitner of Pittsfield Township, was killed Thursday at a housing development west of Ypsilanti when he backed his 45-ton construction vehicle into a ditch.

Bitner was pinned inside the cab which was crushed by the weight of the machine. A second back hoe was used to lift the toppled machine out of the ditch. His body was then recovered. He was dead on arrival at an Ann Arbor hospital.

Power Politics Places New Capitol On Track

LANSING (AP) — A power-politics bulldozer has rolled over the opposition and put the Michigan Legislature back on the track toward early construction of a new State Capitol.

An afternoon of buttonholing and arm-grabbing by senators Thursday led to House approval of a hotly debated $4-million appropriation to finance further planning to replace the 90-year-old State Capitol.

Senate leaders popped the cork on a bottle of champagne to celebrate.

Restoration of discipline among rebels in the House ranks leaves Gov. William Milliken committed to appointing 10 citizen advisors to meet with him and five legislators from each chamber to review further steps toward replacement of the state, but strained, white-domed Capitol.

U.S. Compromise On Missile Curb

BRUSSELS (AP) — Allied diplomats reported today the United States is ready to discuss curbing nuclear missiles with the Soviet Union without demanding on-the-ground inspections that Moscow has rejected in the past.

Their disclosure followed several briefings at North Atlantic Treaty Organization headquarters by Philip Farley, No. 2 man on the U.S. negotiating team in the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) proposed by President Nixon.

The 14 NATO members were told the briefings were secret and warned that if details leaked out, Nixon would think twice about consulting them again. But with 60 or 70 ambassadors, aides and experts attending each briefing, diplomats said some aspects of the U.S. negotiating stance were bound to get out.

Thursday one West European diplomat said: "I only hope Washington is holding something back."

Nixon has said the United States will be ready for SALT by July 31. He has suggested Geneva or Vienna as possible sites for talks with the Soviets, but so far there has been no direct response from Moscow.

Phillips Girl Had Real 'Concern For People'

ANN ARBOR (AP)—State Police report crime laboratory tests show the gun used to kill 25-year-old University of Michigan graduate student Margaret Phillips was not used in the slaying of two other U-M coeds earlier this year.

COOPERSVILLE (AP) — A slain University of Michigan coed, whose family minister said she enrolled in graduate school there to "even better help her fellow man," has been buried near her childhood home in this small southwestern Michigan community.

The Rev. Philip P. Steele, pastor of Coopersville Reform Church, told a gathering of more than 200 friends, relatives, neighbors and schoolmates Thursday that 25-year-old Margaret Anne Phillips had an underlying deep and real concern for other people.

"Knowing what I do about Margaret, I'm sure that Margaret would forgive whoever did this even quicker than we can," the minister said.

Miss Phillips, who enrolled at the Ann Arbor school last August to complete work on a masters degree in sociology, was described by the minister as "full of vim and vigor, vitality and verve. She was a member of the 'now generation' and a swinger in the best sense of that word."

No Reunion For Old Vets

PENTWATER (AP) — For 70 years, survivors of Co. A of the 35th Michigan Volunteer Infantry met in annual reunion at Pentwater and recalled how they fought typhoid fever, malaria and food poisoning—but saw little battle action in the Spanish-American War.

This year for the first time since the 111 boys from three Michigan counties were sworn in July 11, 1898, there will be no reunion.

Only five men are still living, says 92-year-old Earl Mason of Ionia, and four of them can't make it.

Mason, who still operates a 16-acre cherry farm all by himself, said that at their 50th anniversary meeting in 1948, the 48 who attended formed a "Last Man's Club" and pledged to keep on meeting "so long as two shall remain."

Mason's wife died 17 years ago.

Last year, only three survivors made it to the reunion. The four others still living wrote that they couldn't make it for one reason or another.

During the past year, two more veterans died, including the club commander, Henry Pilon of Pentwater.

South Africans Approach Race Relations Differently

While the United States has struggled in a social and legislative effort to unite black and white races, the Union of South Africa has taken a different approach, according to Les de Villiers, director of information services.

De Villiers, a tall man with a shock of black hair streaked with gray, visited briefly in Escanaba this summer on a flying tour of the Upper Peninsula with John McGoff of East Lansing, president of Panax Corp.

McGoff toured South Africa and authored a series of four articles about the country and its people which was published in the Daily Press.

What South Africa strives for in its race relations, de Villiers said, is not a complete separation of the black and white races, but rather legislation to eliminate the "friction" points.

Racial inter-marriage, he pointed out, has been illegal since legislation was passed in 1927.

Training Blacks

De Villiers said the blacks in South Africa—there are seven million—differ culturally, economically and socially from the white population, but that South Africa is "doing everything it can" to train the blacks for more productive lives, both at its universities and through on-the-job training programs.

Segregation, however, still is the way of life in residential areas and even in churches because the people, both blacks and whites, prefer it that way.

By law, de Villiers said, there is no segregation required in churches, but by practice that's the way it is.

De Villiers, whose headquarters is in New York, has been in Canada for the past five years and expects to remain in the United States for the next five.

"My first reaction to the Upper Peninsula is that I'm sorry it's just a flying visit," he smiled. "I'd like to drive up and take some time for a vacation here."

In his position as director of information service, he said he traveled 12,000 to 13,000 miles last year and doesn't consider that enough.

"It will take a long time to try to understand the United States," he said.

Many Similarities

Actually, de Villiers said there are many similarities between the United States and South Africa. He said South Africa tended to look toward Britain as the most influential country, but today that whole position has changed.

In business, he said, the United States has to be tops and also in importance politically.

He said, for example, there are about 300 U.S. companies with subsidiary operations in South Africa, including Ford Motor Co. and General Motors.

Gold and diamond mining are among the principal industries with gold mining leading to the industrialization process that began in 1886. However, the country also mines iron ore and is a major exporter of steel. South Africa has every known mineral, except bauxite and oil, and work has been started on off shore exploration for oil.

From a military view, South Africa is strategically important especially since the closing of the Suez Canal, de Villiers pointed out. There are no foreign troops stationed in the country, but it does have an agreement with Britain providing for ways in which the nations can cooperate in time of crisis.

"Our ports and facilities are open to our western allies, and in the international sphere we have always supported the position of the United States because this is the side in which we tend to believe," he said.

K. I. Sawyer 'Open House' To Feature Thunderbirds

K. I. SAWYER—The skies over K. I. Sawyer will be filled with the sleek, red-white-and-blue painted, F-4 Phantoms of the Air Force Thunderbirds Saturday as the base hosts the public during its 1969 Open House.

For 30 minutes, beginning at 3 p. m., the air will be charged with flashing aircraft. First, the four planes of the Thunderbird diamond formation appear, their wings overlapped 60 inches.

Over they will roll, the pilots never letting their aircraft move out of alignment. As the pilots complete one maneuver, the Thunderbirds will move on to vertical rolls, aileron rolls, and reverse half-cuban eights.

Every Thunderbird air show is a demonstration of military hardware that is playing vital roles in United States Air Force operations around the world—the F-4 Phantom.

Standing 16 feet tall, the Phantom stretches 63 feet from the tip of its nose to the tail. The wings, spanning 38 feet, are tapered with swept-out tips to allow speeds above Mach 2, or twice the speed of sound. The Phantom's two J-79 engines are capable of producing more than 34,000 pounds of thrust.

The aerial demonstrations during Open House will be only one of some 100 shows for which the Thunderbirds are scheduled each year. Now into their 17th season, the team has flown more than 1,300 demonstrations in all of the 50 states and more than 40 foreign countries. (The team will appear Aug. 30 in Escanaba.)

Also featured at the Open House will be displays of Air Force tactical aircraft including the Boeing B-52 Stratofortress, Convair B-58 Hustler, Northrop T-38 Talon, McDonnell F-101 Voodoo, Convair F-

Chrysler Corp. Cancels Projects

DETROIT (AP) — Chairman Lynn Townsend said Thursday that the delaying of some Chrysler Corp. expansion projects and the canceling of others will not affect the company's planned production of 1970 model automobiles.

Some Chrysler plants were shut down for changeover to 1970 models. Townsend said in an interview that when they restart it will be at the same level of employment and production which prevailed last fall and at the start of current shutdowns.

Chrysler confirmed earlier that it will delay start of production at a $200 million automobile assembly plant being built at New Stanton, Pa., until 1972 and had canceled plans to expand its Kokomo, Ind., transmission plant for production of torque converters.

Townsend explained, "Chrysler thought it wise and prudent to defer some longer-range expansion programs until the economy returns to a more normal growth pattern."

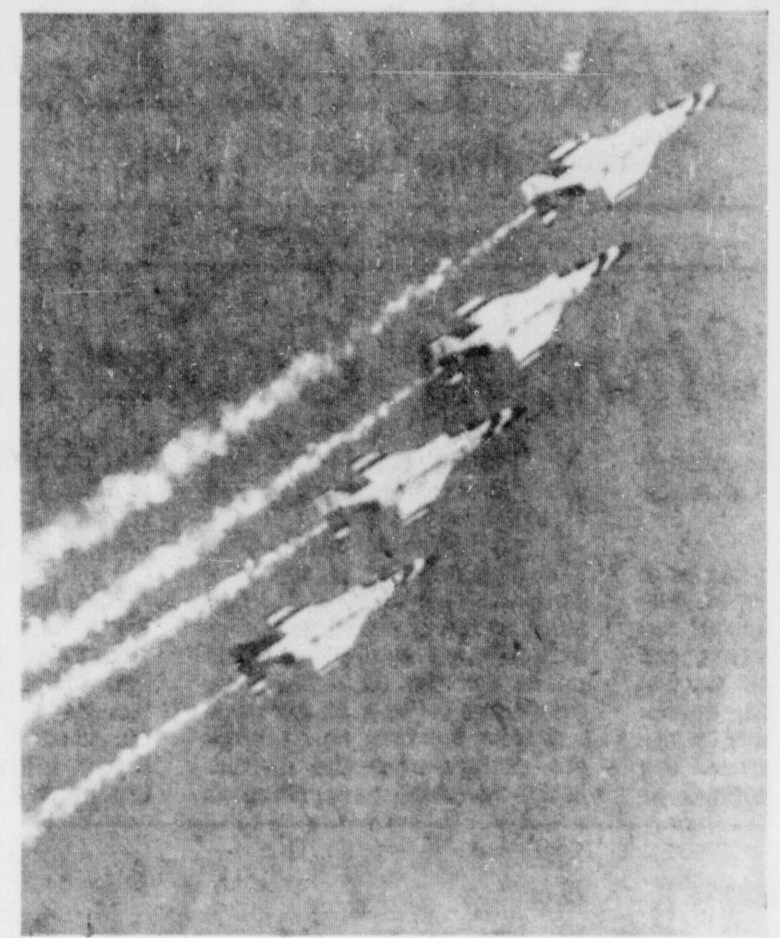

He prefaced this by saying that "uncertainties in the economy, including high interest rates and anti-inflationary measures in general," seem to be "holding down expected increases in the total U.S. car market."

Townsend said he anticipated that Chrysler dealers will clean up 1969 models "in pretty good shape," and stuck by a previous prediction that the U.S. market will absorb approximately 9.6 million cars, including imports, this year.

Chrysler's earnings in this year's first quarter were $48 million, compared with $69.3 million in the first three months of 1968, a record year in which Chrysler profits hit $290.7 million.

Jacobetti Heads Study On U.P. Water, Resources

State Rep. D. J. Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) has been appointed chairman of a special committee of the House of Representatives to study copper, iron and water problems in the Upper Peninsula.

He will head a five-man committee appointed by the Speaker of the House, William A. Ryan. The committee will report its findings and recommendations to the Legislature.

"Copper, iron and water are vital to the economy of the Upper Peninsula," Jacobetti said. "The special committee will look into such matters as mine safety, new techniques and increased productivity as well as expansion of water facilities. He will cover a wide range of subjects beneficial to the Upper Peninsula."

The special study committee will function until the end of the year.

"It is necessary now to study mine safety problems, new techniques and increased productivity research so that the iron and copper industries can realize their fullest potentials," Jacobetti said. "Coupled with this will be a study of expansion of present water facilities requested by many areas of the Upper Peninsula."

"Hopefully, out of the committee's studies and recommendation which will assist the Upper Peninsula in solving problems in these areas so important to its economy," he added.

The committee was created by a resolution introduced by Jacobetti and approved by the House.

Bosch Included Small Breweries Get Tax Break

LANSING (AP) — The Senate has offered a legislative toast to several small Michigan brewers, granting a tax break aimed at helping them stay in business.

Passed 20-10 Thursday, over objections of some members who said the tax break was a "basic violation of the system of free enterprise" was a bill providing that the brewers would pay no tax on the first 10,000 barrels of beer each year.

To benefit from the measure, brewers could manufacture no more than 50,000 barrels and export no more than 10,000.

Sen. Harry Demaso, R-Battle Creek, said the bill would help Bosch Brewery of Houghton and Geyer Brothers of Frankenmuth, brewers he said needed the tax reduction.

The bill will help keep 100 persons at work, he said, adding that four other brewers—Cumberland, Champale, Century and O'Connell—also may benefit from the tax provisions that would be in effect for two years.

Means Jobs

"This may mean jobs for 100 families," argued Sen. James Grey, D-Warren. "But it could mean problems for 1,000 families" who may not get tax breaks because of the $55,100 in lost beer tax.

"If these (brewers) can't make it, they should get out of the business," contended Sen. Roger Craig, D-Dearborn. "I believe this kind of protection for business is improper."

The bill was returned to the House for concurrence in Senate amendments.

Readied for passage when the Senate reconvenes Monday afternoon was a bill allowing minors to seek treatment for venereal disease without the consent of their parents or guardians.

Tabulations

A Senate amendment would provide that parents or guardians would not be held responsible for any medical costs stemming from treatment under the act.

New Bus Service Replacing Train Set To Begin

A new daily bus service will begin Wednesday between Ishpeming and Green Bay, Wis., coordinating with Chicago and North Western Railway's passenger service between Green Bay, Milwaukee and Chicago.

The bus service will be operated on an experimental basis through a one-year contract with Greyhound Lines, Inc., replacing a round-trip passenger train which has been operating daily between Green Bay and Ishpeming.

Under the coordinated rail-bus arrangement, a new schedule will be provided north of Green Bay, with an air-conditioned and lavatory-equipped Greyhound bus leaving Ishpeming daily at 12:05 p.m., arriving in Green Bay at 4:15 p.m., where passengers will make an across-the-platform transfer to Train 216, leaving Green Bay at 4:40 p.m., and arriving in Chicago at 9:30 p.m.

To Meet Trains

Northbound, the bus will connect at Green Bay with Train 153 which leaves Chicago at 11:20 a.m., arriving in Green Bay at 4:15 p.m. daily. Passengers on 153 will board the bus at Green Bay across the platform and arrive at Ishpeming at 8:50 p.m. Both 153 and 216 have modern bi-level coaches and food and beverage service.

The southbound bus will arrive in Escanaba at the Greyhound terminal, 615 Ludington St., at 1:50 p.m. leaving five minutes later. Northbound, the bus will arrive in Escanaba at 6:50 p.m.

Claude J. Tobin, terminal agent, said that tickets for the coordinated bus-train service will be available at the terminal.

"We are certain that the new service will prove to be more convenient for our passengers traveling to and from points north of Green Bay," said H. A. Lense, North Western's director of commuter and passenger services. "We will do everything we can to make the combined service as attractive as possible in an effort to make this intermodal experiment a success."

Depends On Patronage

Lense said the new bus service arrangement will be extended from year to year depending upon the success of the service in terms of rider usage.

The new bus will pick up and drop off passengers at Greyhound bus stations north of Green Bay at Oconto, Peshtigo, Marinette, Stephenson, Powers, Escanaba, Rapid River, Marquette, and Ishpeming. Greyhound now makes no stop in Menominee but the new bus will stop there at 5:45 p.m., northbound and 3:05 p.m., southbound. Greyhound makes highway stops at Bark River and Gladstone. At Negaunee the bus will stop at Baldwin Ave. and Highway 41.

The new bus will serve all communities now served by rail north of Green Bay with the exception of Rock and Little Lake. It will make stops at Gladstone, Rapid River, Marquette and Negaunee, not now served by the trains.

A single ticket will be issued and honored on the coordinated rail-bus service. Rail-bus fares or existing rail fares, whichever are lower, will apply. For local travel between Green Bay and Ishpeming Greyhound bus fares will apply.

Trains and buses will be held for connection at Green Bay to assure riders of through service, Lense said.

U.P. Antlerless Deer Quota Cut

HIGGINGS LAKE (AP) — A slightly reduced quota for the doe and fawn kill during the deer hunting season this fall was approved today by the State Natural Resources Commission.

The commission went along with Game Division recommendations for a kill of 45,590 antlerless deer this fall, down from the quota of 46,155 last season.

The antlerless deer quota for the Upper Peninsula was scaled down nearly 19 per cent from last season of 11,985 does and fawns. The cut was recommended because of a poor fawn crop in the area due to a severe winter.

The antlerless deer quota for the northern Lower Peninsula was set at 30,115, a four per cent increase over the 1968 season. Game experts said deer in the area came through the winter in good shape.

The quota for the southern Lower Peninsula was increased from 2,470 to 3,490 with an addition of 3,000 square miles open to hunting.

U.P. Archers Best In State

Michigan's army of archery deer hunters didn't take as many deer as they did in 1967, but they did "cut down" a take of 2,610 whitetails to score their third best kill on record, according to survey results just released by the Department of Natural Resources.

Last season's harvest fell only 40 animals short of the 1967 figure as 59,080 bowhunters, the largest number ever, stalked the state's forest and fields.

Bowhunters from the Upper Peninsula, like their firearm hunting counterparts, took the title as "best in the state" by scoring the highest shooting success as 10.5 per cent of them filled their licenses.

This means that one of every 10 U. P. hunters brought home a deer, compared with a statewide average of one of every 23.

Russia Releases American Flyer

MOSCOW (AP) — Two fliers from the United States and West Germany have been released by the Soviet Union after being held a week for straying across the border, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said today.

He said Lt. Col. George Patterson of Chamblee, Ga., and Dr. Karl Sichelstiel were told they could continue on their way to Turkey, their destination in a light plane rally when they made an emergency landing in Soviet territory on the Black Sea coast July 4.

The spokesman said the men were to leave the Black Sea town of Batumi as soon as weather permitted. "The chances are they have already taken off for Turkey," he said.

Two Injured In Collision

Two persons were injured in a car-train accident at 5:30 this morning on County Rd. 557 at the Chicago & North Western tracks in Wilcox.

State Police said that a car driven by Theodore Willa, 33, Rte. 1, Wilcox, was just about to cross the tracks when the C&NW passenger train struck the front end of Willa's car spinning it around.

Willa and a passenger in his car, Gerry Perlot, 18, Powers, both received slight injuries in the collision.

Willa told State Police that as he came to the tracks, he looked to the left and that when he turned around to look to the right, the train was already there.

"I hit my brakes hard," Willa told troopers. "But it was too late to avoid the collision."

Willa and Perlot were taken to St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba where they were treated and released.

There was no damage to the train, police reported.

Detroit Brewery Lowers Blatz Bid

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Associated Brewing Co., of Detroit, Mich., the highest known bidder for the Blatz brewery, reduced its $11.5 million offer by $1 million Thursday.

A spokesman said the lengthy hearing in federal court on sale of the Blatz property, now owned by the Pabst Brewing Co., had disrupted Associated's plans for Blatz. Another factor, he said, was the interest shown by several additional prospective purchasers.

Another bidder, Grain Belt Breweries Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn., withdrew Wednesday from the competition for Blatz.

Eveline Manninen, Douglas Grimes Wed

Wedding vows were exchanged by Eveline Manninen and Douglas Grimes during a 1 p. m. ceremony on June 14 at Sts. Mary and Joseph's Church in Iron Mountain with the Rev. T. Lester Bourgeois officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Manninen and the late Edwin Manninen of 1207 West Hughitt St., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Grimes of Manistique.

Silk Organza

Given in marriage by an uncle, Toivo Manninen of Greenwood, Wis., the bride wore a floor-length gown of imported white silk organza with a high Victorian neckline. Empire waist, and an A-line skirt. The bodice was covered with Chantilly peau de Ange lace as were the long gathered sleeves.

The bridal veil was a circular cathedral length mantilla etched in the same lace and secured with a lace and satin covered Juliet cap. Her bouquet, in a nosegay arrangement, consisted of pastel shades of garnet roses and miniature carnations.

Anna Marie Manninen attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Sharon Alberti, Mariann Grimes, and Pamela Sjoberg.

Nile Green

They wore floor-length Nile green dotted Swiss gowns of Victorian styling with long gathered sleeves and Empire waists. They wore white picture hats with green streamers, and their bouquets were nosegays of miniature pastel carnations with long white streamers. The flower girl was Carol Schwartz, cousin of the bridegroom, from Manistique.

Serving as best man was Murray Patz of Sheboygan, and also attending the bridegroom were Michael Grimes, Mark Grimes and Jerry Kaufman. Performing ushering duties were Marvin Curran and Mark

Mrs. Douglas Grimes

Ellington with Robbie Schwartz as the ringbearer.

Mothers' Attire

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Manninen chose an antique blue silk dress and coat ensemble with an embossed neckline of imported seed pearls. Matching accessories and a corsage of white garnet roses and blue tinted carnations completed her attire. Mrs. Grimes wore a mint green knit dress with sequin jacket and matching accessories. Her corsage was of white garnet roses and mint green carnations.

Reception

Following the ceremony the couple greeted 250 guests at a reception held at the Silo in Spread Eagle with a buffet dinner and a dance.

A buffet style breakfast and lunch was served to relatives at the bride's home before the ceremony and the rehearsal dinner was at the Steak Ranch.

A wedding trip is planned to Germany in the near future.

The bride is a graduate of NMU and will be working on her master's degree there this summer. The bridegroom is a 1968 graduate of NMU and is currently working on his master's degree in education. He is affiliated with Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Both will be teaching in Port Huron this fall.

John Kanes Observe Their Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kane of Harris observed their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday, July 5, with a Mass of Thanksgiving at 12 noon at St. George Church in Bark River with Rev. Thomas P. Dunleavy officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. Wayne Marcotte of St. Anne Church in Escanaba.

Two grandsons, Michael and John, of Escanaba, sons of the late Kenneth Kane, served as altar boys.

The oldest grandson and granddaughter, Dennis Kane of Escanaba and Sharon Webster of Appleton, escorted their grandparents to the altar. While Dennis lit a votive light and Mrs. Webster placed a bouquet of flowers on the altar of the Blessed Virgin, a nephew, George W. Deloughary of Escanaba, sang, "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother." Christine Nault was organist.

A reception was held at the Bark River Community Hall from 2 to 6 p.m. The tiered wedding cake, made by a niece, Mrs. Lenord Bower of Eustis, was topped with a gold 50 and decorated with gold rings and doves. Two granddaughters, Miss Barbara Porteur of Miami and Mrs. Larry Smet of Appleton, served the cake. Two other granddaughters, Stephanie and Cynthia Kane of Milwaukee, circulated the guest book.

A collage of family pictures and the Kane coat of arms, prepared by Miss Shiela Munger of Appleton provided considerable interest. Mrs. Stanley Kwarciany of Bark River did the catering.

Mrs. Kane received her guests attired in a royal blue gown and hat made by a granddaughter, Mrs. Sharon Webster. Her corsage was of gold roses. Ann DeLoughary and John Kane, both of Harris, were married June 30, 1919, in St. George Church, Bark River, by the late Rev. William Geers. They were attended by Margaret Harding of Powers, now Mrs. Ed Veaser, and Michael Kane of Harris. Both were present for the anniversary festivities. The couple have lived on a farm south of Harris all their wedded life.

The Kanes are the parents of 10 children, seven of whom are living: Mrs. Margaret Munger, Appleton; Michael, Detroit; John, Milwaukee; Robert, Escanaba; Mrs. Dale (Anne Mae) Erickson, Grand Rapids; Shirley, Appleton; Mrs. Norman (Marlene) Dianich, Delafield, Wis., 25 grandchildren and three great grandchildren. All were present for the occasion.

Also present was Mrs. Kane's sister, Mrs. Edward Flynn of Peoria, Ill., and Mr. Kane's brother, Michael of Powers and four sisters, Mrs. David (Mary) Flynn, Mrs. Maurice (Ann) Flynn, Mrs. Tom (Celia) Fenlon, all of Escanaba and Mrs. Lawrence (Grace) Fenlon of Hyde.

ARDITH DAWN BOUGIE and Daniel Ross of Escanaba exchanged wedding vows during a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, July 5 at the Central United Methodist Church. The Rev. Karl Hammar officiated at the nuptials at 1:30 p. m. After a wedding trip to lower Michigan the couple will reside in Wells. Both young people are Escanaba High School graduates. Libraries Sent Sex Guidelines

LANSING (AP)—An Oakland County lawmaker who says proposed guidelines for sex education courses will "really shake up" the people wants the Legislature to take up the question this fall.

Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, introduced a resolution Thursday noting "increasing concern" over the guidelines now under consideration of the State Board of Education.

The Board of Education, meanwhile, announced arrangements for libraries in 30 Michigan cities "to take the unprecedented steps to assure public access to the document."

A limited number of copies were "rushed" to the libraries "along with an urgent request to make them available to the public" by today, the board said.

The first public reading of the guidelines earlier this week brought more than 500 persons to Lansing.

Special Session

Huber called on Gov. William Milliken to include the topic of sex education in matters to be brought before a special fall legislative session, if such a session is demanded.

If the Legislature recesses and reconvenes this fall—as is now the plan—Huber would proclaim that "sex education shall be the subject of appropriate legislation."

Two other resolutions dealing with sex education already are under study of the Senate Business Committee, which will decide whether to report them for action by the entire membership.

One resolution, offered by Senate Education Chairman Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, would establish a special committee to study creation of a sex education and critical health problems program within the education department.

The second proposal, introduced by Republican Sens. Gary Byker of Hudsonville and Milton Zaagman of Grand Rapids, would create a senate committee to study materials included on a now-controversial sex education bibliography prepared by the department.

Branch Library

The Legislature earlier this year adopted a resolution urging all local school districts to halt sex education courses until the state board acted on proposed guidelines.

The board said the proposed guidelines had been sent to libraries in the following cities and counties:

Sault Ste. Marie, Dickinson County, Marquette Township and State Library Branch, Escanaba.

Marines Want British Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marine planners want nearly $250 million worth of special fighter planes designed to take off straight up from small clearings close behind battle lines and provide immediate support for infantry.

Congress has been asked to vote $57 million for 12 British-built Harrier planes to be used for service testing and developing tactical doctrine.

Marine sources, already convinced the Harrier would be more effective than any other fighter for the future, said the Corps hopes over the next few years to buy a total of about 65 Harriers and organize them into three squadrons.

The Harrier, already being incorporated into the Royal Air Force, is the first vertical-short takeoff and landing plane—VSTOL—to show real combat promise, Marine experts said.

The United States and Britain have carried on research and development in the field for years but with limited success. The Russians are reported near production of a VSTOL plane code named "Freehand."

Congress may approve the first 12, but there is some question whether the lawmakers would go for the whole Marine plan if the present harsh mood toward defense spending should continue on Capitol Hill.

Compromise ABM With Radar Sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appears to be moving toward a compromise which would bar deployment of the Safeguard missile defense system but would step up testing of radar and computer components, probably at two Pacific test sites.

Sen. George D. Aiken, the Vermont Republican who nudged the Senate closer to compromise Thursday by stating Safeguard could not be approved without modifications, predicted a program could be worked out acceptable to both a substantial majority of senators and the Nixon administration.

"I don't think the White House is so narrow-minded as to object to a workable modification of the bill," Aiken told a reporter. He said he has been in touch with the White House often in recent weeks.

At the Pentagon, Deputy Secretary of Defense David R. Packard would not rule out the possibility of compromise.

"The question of a compromise is a matter which will have to be dealt with by the President," Packard told reporters. "It's not in my hands. He's running it."

At the White House, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler again predicting the administration will win the fight, did not discuss the possibility of a compromise.

Negotiations behind the

Mid East Faces Summer Jitters

BEIRUT (AP) — The Middle East faces another summer of tension and war jitters. Peace appears remote, but so are prospects of a major showdown.

The Arabs freely concede they won't be ready for a big confrontation with Israel for at least another year. And the Israelis say they don't need any more Arab territory.

The Arab-Israeli war has never really stopped since 1967. It paused briefly after the Israelis won the last showdown—the six-day war in June of that year—but resumed within weeks with air, naval, artillery and commando strikes by both sides.

Israel and the Arab world are so accustomed to the hostilities they tend to turn a deaf ear to frequent warnings from U.N. Secretary-General U Thant about the threat of a general war.

Basically At War

"We consider ourselves at war," Egypt's official spokesman, Mohamed Hassan el Zayat, said Wednesday.

Because each side knows there won't be a showdown in the immediate future, they evidence little alarm at the steady escalation in fighting. In the last eight months artillery duels across the Suez Canal and the Jordan River have become daily affairs.

Aerial dogfights are growing in frequency. Since the 1967 war the Israelis claim they downed 37 Egyptian and Syrian planes, 17 of them in the last two weeks. The Arabs claim to have downed at least as many Israeli planes, but Israel has rarely conceded an aircraft loss.

The Israelis have realized they cannot blast Arab air power out of existence as easily as they did in June 1967. The Egyptian and Syrian air force now are scattered around secret bases throughout the Arab world.

Pressure

The Arabs are expected to maintain their pressure against Israel on all fronts and apparently feel they have little to lose—except arms, ammunition and the lives of their commandos. The arms and ammunition flow in from the Communist bloc on easy credit terms and the human toll has been relatively light.

The Arabs feel they have much to gain from continued pressure on the Israelis. It helps maintain Arab morale, mollifies extremist demands for a war of liberation and places an increasing strain on Israel's economy.

Israel has retaliated, of course, but nothing approaching the showdown stage yet.

Doctor Gets $169,000

Blue Shield Discloses High Medicaid Payments

DETROIT (AP) — Thirteen Michigan doctors collected more than $50,000 each for treatment of Medicaid patients last year, with a Benton Harbor general practitioner grossing $169,000 and topping the list.

The Detroit News said today three Detroit physicians working together billed Medicaid for $313,792; another, who said he employs two other doctors, received $112,451, and a third, who reported he made as many as 50 house calls a day, received $107,758.

The payouts were disclosed by Blue Shield, which processes all Medicaid claims in Michigan.

Medicaid is a federal-state program which provides medical care for the poor on a par with treatment provided persons covered by a medical insurance program.

Last year in Michigan it cost $31.3 million in physicians' fees, drugs and allied services. State and federal governments split the cost, 50-50.

Under Contract

Funds are paid out and the doctors' services and charges audited by Michigan Blue Shield, acting as the government representative under contract.

Medicare is a different program, designed to assist the elderly in meeting medical and hospital expenses.

Doctors may participate in one or both services and still continue their private practices.

Blue Shield figures show Dr. Sanford Polansky, a general practitioner at Benton Harbor for 21 years, was paid $169,000 in 1968 for caring for that city's poor under the Medicaid program. His bill topped that of any other by $47,000.

Dr. Polansky, who has offices over a downtown Benton Harbor clothing store, was quoted by The Detroit News as saying he spends four afternoons and one evening a week in his office and every morning at Mercy Hospital there.

Employs Three

He was quoted as saying he receives $5 for an office call and $90 for delivering a baby. He employs a fulltime secretary and two part-time clerical assistants.

John C. McCabe, president of Michigan Blue Shield, said in a number of instances, arrangements had been made by hospitals to have Medicaid payments to staff physicians who are on salary paid into educational funds.

The Crittenton Hospital Residents Educational Fund received $74,000 in Medicaid fees, although the checks were made out to Dr. Ethelene Crockett, director of clinics at the hospital and wife of Detroit Recorder's Judge George W. Crockett Jr.

Dr. Claud R. Young, an osteopath and cousin of State Sen. Coleman A. Young, operates the Fourteenth Street Clinic in Detroit which billed Medicaid for $203,402.

Young was quoted as saying the payments represented fees to himself and three other full-time doctors, a cardiologist and a parttime cardiologist.

Arrest Girl, 19, With Marijuana

DETROIT (AP)—A young girl arrested at Detroit Metro Airport with some $3,200 worth of marijuana has been released on two years' probation and sent back to her parents Thursday by Wayne County Circuit Judge Theodore Bohn.

Carolyn Beacham, 19, from Minnesota, will not stand trial and will have no record, although if she violates parole she could be brought to trial on the original charges of possession and control of marijuana, which carry a maximum fine of $5,000 and 10 years in prison.

Bohn took the action Thursday under Michigan's Youthful Offender's Act after conferring with Carolyn and her parents.

Mead Purchases Part Interest In Italian Firm

DAYTON, Ohio — The Mead Corp. has entered the fast-growing European market for converted paper products through the purchase of a part interest in Cartiere Paolo Pigna, a leading European manufacturer in that field.

Announcement of the Mead purchase, a minority interest, was made jointly by Dr. Daniele Pesenti Pigna, general manager and managing director of the Italian company, and Paul V. Allemang, executive vice president of Mead.

Located in Alzano Lombardo, near Bergamo, Italy, Pigna also operates six white paper machines, primarily to supply its converting operations. The company employs 800 people had sales in excess of about $10 million in 1968.

"Pigna is an outstanding company in marketing strength in Italy and in their paper converting technology, in which we believe they have no equal in the world," Allemang commented.

Mead has enjoyed a profitable working relationship with Pigna during the past five years, Allemang noted. "We have benefited from their technology in the past and we regard them as an ideal partner with whom to capitalize on the fast-growing European markets for converted paper products."

Europe now uses more than 300,000 tons of converted paper products a year. In Italy alone the markets for these products are growing at approximately seven per cent per year, and the European market is potentially as great as that of the United States, according to Dr. Pigna.

Dr. Pigna, who is 34, has served as a consultant and representative of Mead in Europe since 1965. He has been appointed assistant to the executive vice president of Mead Corp.

EHS Class Of 1929 Reunion Held Saturday

Sixty-three members and guests of the Escanaba High School Class of 1929 gathered Saturday night, July 5, at the Highland Golf Club for a 40-year reunion.

The traditional fellowship hour was followed by a smorgasbord dinner and an informal program and group singing.

Neville Hart of Tecumseh, served as toastmaster. Bill Peters gave the welcoming address and also commented on some of the changes and growth that have taken place in Escanaba in recent years.

Roll call and introduction of guests followed with each class member giving a brief statement of his present occupation. Milton Embs presided over a brief business meeting, noting that another reunion would be held at the 45 year mark.

A highlight of the evening was a fun-game, "Truly Wed," with Bob Snow in charge. Several prizes were presented during the program: earliest reservation received, Gretchen Richter Eastwood; traveled farthest — Bill Mathes (from California); most hair — Clarence Swanson; most grandchildren — Agnes Larson Gagnon; youngest classmate — Emil Trotter.

A memento also was given to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schram (Harriet Fragile) who are both members of the Class of 1929. Singing of class and old time songs led by Alta Trombly Cass concluded the program. Letters and greetings from many class members who were unable to be present were placed on a table for reading.

Serving on the reunion committee were Bill Peters, Milton Embs, Signe Anderson Moore, Bob Snow, Marbey Boes Petrie, Alta Trombly Cass, Marguerite Call Potvin and Gladys Anderson Andrews.

Attending from out-of-town were: Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Eastwood (Gretchen Richter) Stevens Point, Wis., William Mathes, Sunnyvale, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hafeman, (Clarice Primeau) Gwinn, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Tushak, Gary Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Neville Hart, Tecumseh, Mich., Mrs. Alfred Ingebrigtsen, (Signe Nelson), Pompano Beach, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hewitt (Thelma Johnson) Essexville, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tagge, Swartz Creek, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. George McEwen, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Trotter, Brookfield, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Verne Aleckson, Manitowoc, Wis., (Ruth Hogan), Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cloutier, Thiensville, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swanson, Skokie, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gagnon (Agnes Larson), Livonia, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jackson, Lansing, Harry Bourke, Royal Oak.

Power Politics Gets New Capitol On Track

bloc of primarily young legislators, the opposition force garnered support by attacking the favored position held by the architectural firm, its close relationship with A.N. "Gus" Langquist, State Building Division chief, who accompanied members of the firm on a round-the-world tour, and the Joint Capital Outlay Committee's particularly close control over approval of the plans.

Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, principal spokesman for House opponents of the proposed designs, contended the long established reliance on Smith, Hinchman blocked "an opportunity to examine the credentials of other architects for submitting plans."

Faxon and others temporarily won approval for provision in the budget bill to require "an international competition, open to all qualified architectural firms or persons."

Compromise

This statement in place of the $4 million allocation led to the Senate compromise on the gubernatorial committee.

As late as noon Thursday, the Faxon forces held the bare 56-vote margin needed to block restoration of the funds and approval of the otherwise agreed upon appropriation bill.

Senate and House establishment leaders then put their heads together in an effort to break up the rebellion.

Seeking a Senate quorum to deal with an important banking measure, Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood had imposed a "call of the Senate" order, in effect a subpoena for full membership attendance.

Lockwood lifted the call, freeing Democratic Sens. Roger Craig of Dearborn, Coleman Young of Detroit, Gerald of Flint and George Fitzgerald of Grosse Pointe Park for lobbyist duty in the House.

"We'll be jumping all over the calendar," Lockwood predicted earlier. "We're trying to force a vote in the House."

Happy Man

Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Charles O. Zoller, R-Benton Harbor—with Lane a principal booster of the construction project—made no attempt to hide his glee later on.

"I don't have a vote of my own till next July," the usually solemn and dignified senator chuckled.

Ranking House Legislators sought to mollify anger in late stages of debate and smooth over any qualms about disregarding constituent interests or supporting extravagant spending.

"It's just impossible to avoid criticism," said Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Plainwell, ranking Republican member of the House Appropriations Committee.

Wayne Prexy Bans The South End

DETROIT (AP) — The president of Wayne State University today suspended publication of the school's controversial student newspaper, The South End.

President William R. Keast told the paper's editor and advisor and the chairman of Wayne State's Student-Faculty Council, "I have found it necessary to instruct the printer of the South End not to print the issue" planned for today.

Weaver, and Dennis Pearson, 26, also of Battle Creek, were accused of abducting Mrs. Sally Heaton, 26, of Mattawan, Mich., Oct. 23. She was kidnapped from a Mattawan tavern and forced to drive to Chicago.

Mrs. Heaton was found in a field northwest of Chicago with two bullet wounds in her head and one in the arm. She said that the two men raped her, attempted to strangle her, shot her and left her for dead.

Pearson was convicted of the same charges July 1 and was scheduled to be sentenced July 22.

'Fantasticks' Opens July 21

Coralie Puglisi (The Mute) has both the shortest and longest roles in, "The Fantasticks," the satirically romantic musical comedy opening at the Terrace on July 21.

It is the shortest, because her lines are at an absolute minimum, none, since she is portraying a mute. But she is also on the stage longer than any of the other actors and has more than 400 cues to memorize.

She is the musical's property man who, in full sight of the audience, will re-arrange a vast collection of boxes, planks, ribbons, scarves and other items, to indicate changes of scene. She will also scatter vast amounts of confetti and colored cards at appropriate moments.

She also is a prop from time to time. For example, she will have to hold her arms straight out for a full eight minutes without moving, to indicate a wall while Jim Moore (The Boy) and Sue Garrard (The Girl) sing the duet, "Metaphor."

Pete Adamini is directing the musical for the Players de Noc and Ruth Chown is the musical director. Ken Thompson, Dick Puglisi, Dick Hanson and Phil Peterson, complete the cast. Tickets may be purchased at the Terrace, Holiday Bowl, Gust Asp's or by calling Arlene Hendrickson, 786-9200.

Secret Defense Pact With Thailand Exists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department acknowledged Thursday the existence of a secret defense arrangement with Thailand but denied senatorial statements that it broadened the U.S. commitment to the Southeast Asian country.

Describing the secret document as a military contingency plan, the State Department said "This planning involves no further commitment beyond the Southeast Asia treaty."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had contended that the United States sometime ago entered into a secret deal with the Thais which enlarged the U.S. commitment to supply military defenses for that country.

In Bangkok, Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn said the pact "is not a secret agreement." He told newsmen the accord emphasized the dispatch of U.S. troops for "joint operations" with the Thais in defense against Communist aggression.

Kidnapers Get Prison Terms

CHICAGO (AP)—Nelson Weaver, 28, of Battle Creek, Mich., convicted June 1 of kidnapping, rape and attempted murder of a Michigan woman, was sentenced Thursday to two terms of from 100 to 150 years in prison.

The sentences, which are to run concurrently, were imposed for the rape and kidnapping convictions. Judge Philip Rometi of Circuit Court also imposed a concurrent 5-to-10 year sentence for auto theft and a consecutive 5-to-10 year sentence for attempted murder.

Weaver, and Dennis Pearson, 26, also of Battle Creek, were accused of abducting Mrs. Sally Heaton, 26, of Mattawan, Mich., Oct. 23. She was kidnapped from a Mattawan tavern and forced to drive to Chicago.

Mrs. Heaton was found in a field northwest of Chicago with two bullet wounds in her head and one in the arm. She said that the two men raped her, attempted to strangle her, shot her and left her for dead.

VA Mortgages

Q. — I am getting ready to buy a house and expect to get a mortgage guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. I had always understood that, to get a VA mortgage, you could not pay more for the house than the appraisal price set by the VA. A real estate broker informs me that this is not so. He says you can pay more than the VA appraisal if you think the house is a good buy. Is he right?

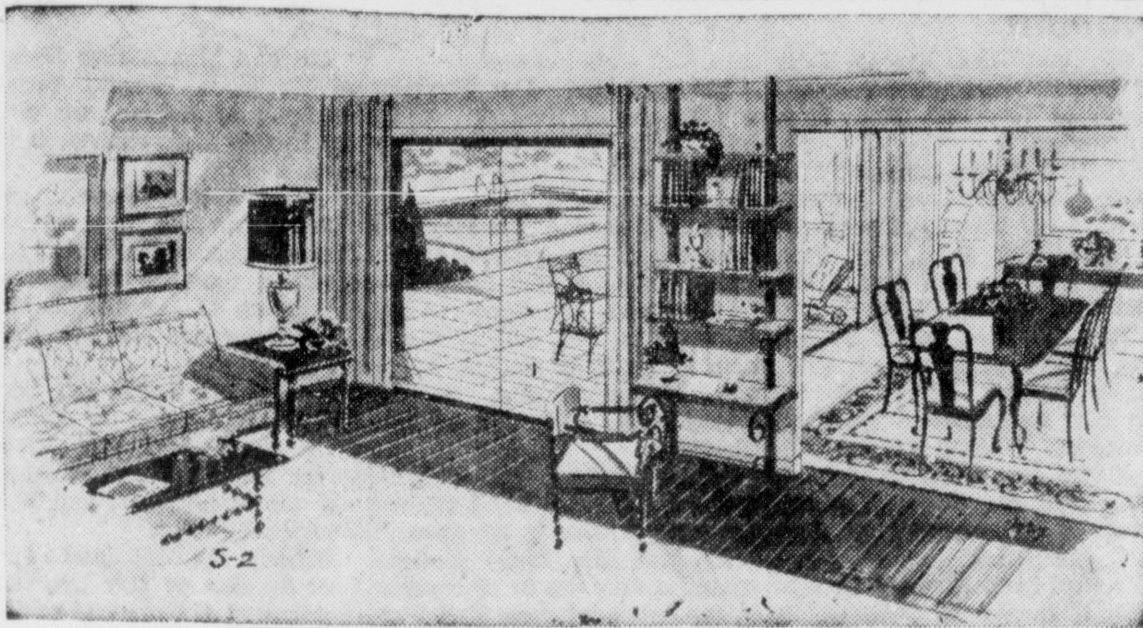

A. — For many years, you could not get a VA-guaranteed loan unless you paid no more than the VA's value appraisal. However, under a law which went into effect last year, veterans were given the right to pay more than the VA appraisal. There is an important provision, though. The difference between the VA appraisal and the price the veteran pays must be paid in cash. It cannot be added to the mortgage. The VA records show that, since the law became effective, one in every 14 home-buying veterans paid more for his house than the VA appraisal. In most cases, the difference amounted to less than $1,000.

Fixing Paint Job

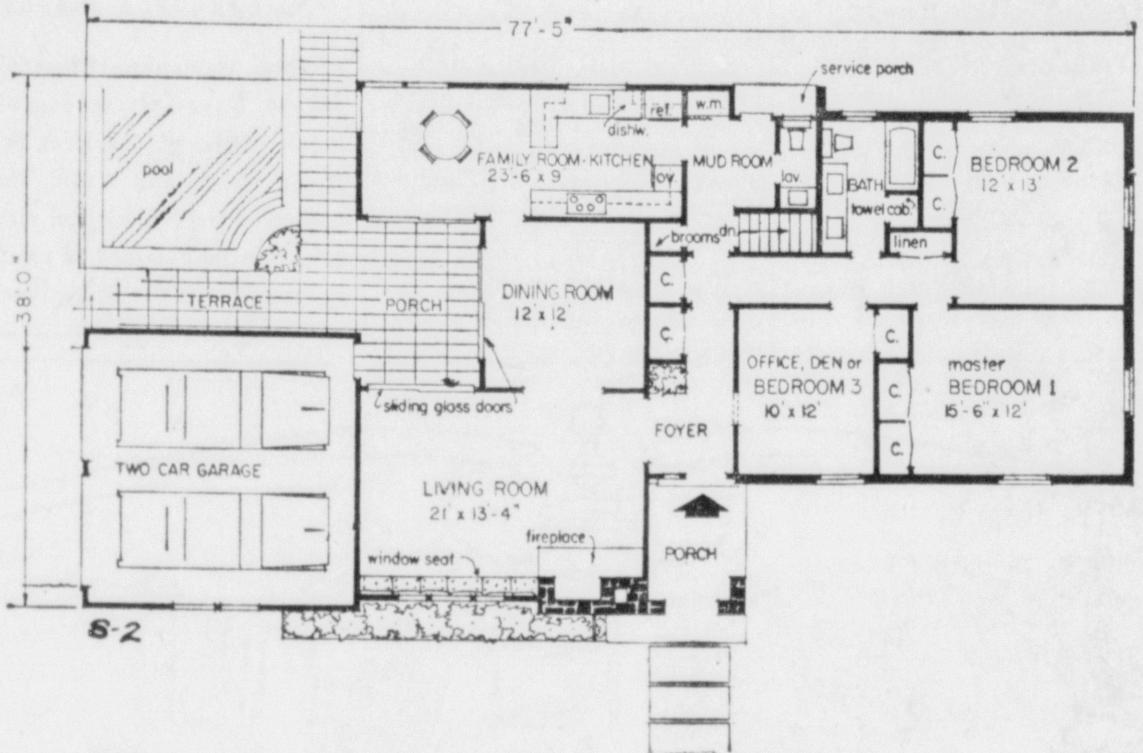

Q.—Our two-car garage has one large wooden overhead door. The old paint is peeling in spots, although very slightly. Will one coat of paint cover? Or would it be better to varnish the door?

A.—Scrape the peeling area and sand it down. Put on a coat of primer, then a coat of paint. If you're using a dark color over a dark color, or a dark color over a light color, one coat over the primer probably will do. If a light color over dark, two coats may be needed. But the best way to judge is after the top coat has been applied. Paint is better than varnish for this purpose.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Lacquer Dries Quickly; Application Takes Care

By ANDY LANG

The speed with which lacquer dries is both an asset and a handicap to the amateur wood finisher.

Because it dries so quickly, it does not pick up as much dust as other finishing materials and permits the application of several coats within a single day. But this fast-drying property requires a special type of application to obtain the fine, smooth, hard surface so characteristic of lacquer.

While professional wood finishers usually apply lacquer with special spraying equipment, good results can be achieved with a brush, especially if the novice acquires the knack of application by practicing first on scrap wood.

The twin secrets of applying lacquer are: work fast and do not go over the same spot a second time. But even before those steps are taken, it is important that the lacquer be thinned sufficiently. Using the lacquer as it comes from the container is a sure way to botch up the job. For a starter, the beginner should use a 50-50 mixture of lacquer and lacquer thinner, preferably made by the same manufacturer. Later, as he learns how to handle this finishing material, he can vary the mixture to suit his own preference.

The lacquer should be applied in broad, sweeping strokes. Move quickly to an adjacent area, overlapping the use of previous strokes very slightly.

Do not return to a section of the surface which you feel did not come out properly, since the new application will soften the previous one. Instead, rely on the next coat to correct the condition.

If the first coat has been thinned sufficiently, it will be hard enough after an hour to sand lightly, wipe off the grit and apply the second coat. Three or four coats are recommended. Use a very fine grade of waterproof sandpaper and very light pressure. (The techniques of applying various kinds of finishes are detailed in Andy Lang's booklet, "Wood Finishing in the Home," which can be obtained by sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P. O. Box 477, Huntington, N. Y. 11743.)

The gloss of lacquer is preferred by most persons and is, in fact, one of the reasons this particular finishing material is selected. But those who desire to cut the gloss can do so by waiting at least a day after application of the final coat and then rubbing the finish with powdered pumice and oil or water. If desired, there is still another step that can be taken; this one to produce a satiny finish. It is a rubdown with powdered rottenstone and again either oil or water. Some dealers carry a special rubbing oil designed to produce this kind of finish without the use of either pumice or rottenstone.

CAPTIVATING DESIGN of this three-bedroom, one-story house is in the Cotswold mold of the old English countryside, highlighted by a large, prominent stone chimney which encompasses the front door and provides an intriguing entranceway.

Cotswold Cottage Charmer

By ANDY LANG

Here's a delightful modern version of the picturesque English architectural style known as the Cotswold.

The Cotswold is associated with charming, nostalgic country cottages with unusual design twists that give them individual character. Although English in origin, being especially popular about 900 years ago, some of their features were borrowed from Irish and Scotch dwellings.

Like the original Cotswolds, this one designed by architect Rudolph A. Matern, features a flowers climb and bloom against the face of the stone.

An interesting recess is formed by the chimney and the protruding corner of the garage which frames the living room window. Just inside this window with its traditional small panes, is a built-in window-fireplace seat 13' long.

Inside the front entrance, a foyer divides traffic left, right and to the rear for excellent circulation. There are two closets and a floor planter along the center hall.

The living room, to the left of the foyer, has a fireplace and sliding glass doors leading to a porch and a large outdoor area. Both the porch and the additional outdoor space, large enough for a pool if desired, are within the overall dimensions of 77' 5" by 38', as is the two-car garage.

To the rear of the living room is the dining room, also with sliding glass doors to the porch. And on the other side of the dining room is a combined family room-kitchen 23' long, again with access to the porch.

Thus, the three principal living areas of the house not only lead to the unusually located porch, but gain visual spaciousness because the large expanses of glass see into bring them together. That's why this house, with its habitable space a modest 1655 square feet, appears to be much bigger than it really is.

Although situated next to the kitchen at the rear of the house, with their own door to the outside, the mud room, lavatory and basement stairway all can be reached directly from the front foyer without passing through a single room.

Three bedrooms and a bathroom are housed in a wing at the right with plenty of closet space. Bedroom number 3 can be made into an office or den if not needed for sleeping quarters. By installing a door in one of the walls, direct access to the front foyer can be created.

Outside and inside, Design S-2 is an enchanting house.

S-2 STATISTICS

Design S-2 has a living room, dining room, combination family room-kitchen, mud room, three bedrooms, a bath, lavatory, foyer and center hall, totaling 1655 square feet. An in-sect porch and an outdoor area sizeable enough for a pool, if desired, are within the overall dimensions of 77' 5" by 38'. A stairway to the basement is near the mud room, kitchen and rear door, but also can be reached from the front entrance.

stone chimney at the front of the house. In fact, the stone is carried over as part of the entrance so that you appear to be walking through the chimney as you move through the front door. Adding to the character of the entranceway is a trellis dropping down from a point along the chimney front to a stone planter from which

Lacquer Finish

Q. — We have had an over-size coffee table in the family for many years. I'm not sure what the finish was, but it seemed to be varnish. It was getting kind of messy and I decided to do something about it. I sanded it lightly, then covered it with two coats of clear lacquer.

To my great dismay, the finish became rough and bubbly, far worse than it had been before I started. The lacquer I used had been around for a couple of years, but the container had never been opened. Could it have spoiled?

A. — There was nothing wrong with the lacquer. What was wrong was your decision to use lacquer over varnish. It softened the varnish and then dried into a rough condition. You have no choice now but to take everything off the wood with a varnish remover and/or a sander. Be sure to clean the surface later with whatever liquid is recommended on the container of the remover. You can then go ahead and refinish the wood with anything you want, including lacquer.

Noe said he thought construction should get underway by Aug. 15 and estimated the units should be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1970.

The units will be constructed on city-owned property off N. Maple St., adjacent to the quarry. Total cost of the project is $516,000. Ten duplex units and five single dwelling - 18 three-bedroom and two two-bedroom duplexes, plus five four-bedroom homes will be erected.

The city is considering a home-ownership program for low-income families once the project is completed, Noe said. He said he had talked to HUD about the plan and would schedule a meeting with the City Housing Commission and City Council to discuss the program.

Under the program, underwritten by the federal government and administered by the Rules and Occupancy Division of HUD, qualifying families would be able to purchase a unit with a 25 year repayment plan.

Noe conferred with HUD officials in Chicago last week.

Public Warned On Animal Bites

An increase in the number of reported animal bites, suffered by both children and adults, has prompted the following warning by Sgt. Paul Uerling, Commander of the Manistique State Police Post.

Uerling said that 12 animal bites have been reported to his department in the period May to July 8. Persons have reported bites by dogs, cats, muskrats, hamsters, rabbits, etc.

Quoting information released by the Michigan Department of Public Health, Uerling urged that anyone suffering a bite by any animal consult a physician immediately and notify either the health department or police department.

Any animal that has bitten a person may have rabies and the only way to wind out is to have the animal confined under observation for ten days. The health department will see that this is done.

If the animal is alive and well after ten days, it could not have transmitted a disease. If the animal dies within the ten day quarantine period, the head will be sent to a laboratory for analysis of its brain for evidence of rabies. The course of action decided upon by any physician will be determined largely by the results of the laboratory analysis of the animal's brain.

Uerling cautioned that any animal suspected of rabies should not be killed if it can be avoided. However, if it becomes necessary to destroy the animal, it should be killed in a manner that won't destroy the brain, needed for laboratory analysis.

To control rabies, the Health Department recommends:

1. Have your dog vaccinated.
2. Do not touch a stray, injured, or sick animal. Leave all wild animals, particularly bats and skunks, alone. Skunks are the largest known reservoir of rabies in Michigan.
3. Report stray dogs to your police and health officials.
4. Have all animal bites treated immediately by a physician and notify your health department of the incident.
5. Help enforce dog control laws and regulations in your community.

Marichal Halts L.A. Despite Sore Thumb

By The Associated Press

Juan Marichal's right thumb is pretty sore but there's nothing wrong with his arm. Just ask the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"He's the best pitcher in the National League," Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston said Thursday night after San Francisco's brilliant right-hander tamed the Dodgers 3-0 on three hits, one a bunt. "He's got all the pitches and he throws them all over the plate."

Well, almost all, according to Marichal, who said he jammed his thumb while grounding out with the bases loaded for the final out of the second inning. "It's so sore it feels like it's broken," he moaned. "My control was bad (he walked three) and I couldn't throw my curve ball for strikes after I hurt the thumb, so I only threw the curve to show it to them. You have to throw everything against this team. I threw a lot of screwballs."

In other National League activity, Atlanta held off San Diego 3-1, Cincinnati nipped Houston 5-4 in 10 innings, the Chicago Cubs ended a five-game skid with a 6-2 victory over the New York Mets, St. Louis shelled Philadelphia 9-3 and Pittsburgh edged Montreal 2-1 in 11 innings.

Baltimore topped Boston 5-4, Cleveland took Detroit 7-5 in 11 innings, Minnesota outlasted Kansas City 6-5 and Oakland routed the Chicago White Sox 12-2 in American League games. California at Seattle was rained out and the New York Yankees and Washington were not scheduled.

Hank Aaron started Atlanta toward snapping a three-game losing streak with a two-run double in the first inning following Felipe Alou's infield hit and a walk to Felix Millan. San Diego starter Dave Roberts, making his second major league appearance, failed to retire a batter.

Johnny Bench lashed a tie-breaking two-run single in the 10th that gave Cincinnati its triumph over Houston, although Jim Wynn of the Astros socked his 21st homer in the bottom of the inning. Bench singled after Tony Perez walked with two out and Lee May doubled.

Bill Hands hurled a three-hitter and Ron Santo's two-run homer capped a five-run fifth inning as the Cubs stopped the Mets' seven-game winning streak and regained a four-game edge in the NL East. Two Met errors aided the Cub cause and Hands didn't allow a hit after the fourth. Tommie Jagee homered for the Mets in the first.

Harmon Killebrew, with five homers in seven days, drilled his 25th of the year in Minnesota's 6-5 victory over Kansas City. The Twins' slugger lifted his major league leading RBI total to 86 with a run-scoring single and his homer.

Oakland kept pace by whacking Chicago. The A's exploded for eight runs in the fourth inning and John "Blue Moon" Odom got his 12th victory with a three-hitter.

Frank Robinson, who had smashed his 20th home run earlier, singled home Paul Blair with Baltimore's winning run in the bottom of the ninth against Boston.

"The 19th Hole"

By Mike Utt

"Golfing nuts," the time of the year you have been waiting for and the time your wife has been dreading is now here. Those wanting to play in tournaments can do so just about every weekend from now until the end of the season since the tourney season is really in full swing at the present time.

The Highland Golf Club is sponsoring the Sixth Annual Highland Open, which annually draws the top golfers in the U. P., this Saturday and Sunday. Entrants will play 18 holes of qualifying rounds on Saturday and return on Sunday for 18 more holes of medal play. Golfers in the championship flight will play 27 holes on Sunday. Dave Confrey of the Portage Lake Golf and Country Club is the defending champion.

Parts of the Highland course looked more like a lake than a golf course after the heavy rains which hit the Escanaba area a couple of weeks ago, but the course is in real good shape now and golfers playing in the Highland Open will really be able to enjoy themselves on the 18-hole course.

The Highland is also sponsoring the 1969 U.P.G.A. Junior Golf Tournament this Monday at 10 a. m. The one-day meet is open to all youngsters in the U. P. 17 years of age and under. Entrants 16 and 17 years old and 14 and 15 years old will play 18 holes while those in the 12-13 age bracket will play nine holes and those under 12 will play six.

The Indian Lake Golf and Country Club at Manistique will be the site of the Senior Men's Tournament on July 26. The one-day event will get underway at 8 a. m. and those wishing to play just nine holes may do so. The tourney will split into five flights with the first group including those in the 50-54 age bracket, 55-59 in the second, 60-64 in the third, 65-69 in the fourth and 70 and over in the fifth. Prizes will be awarded in each flight.

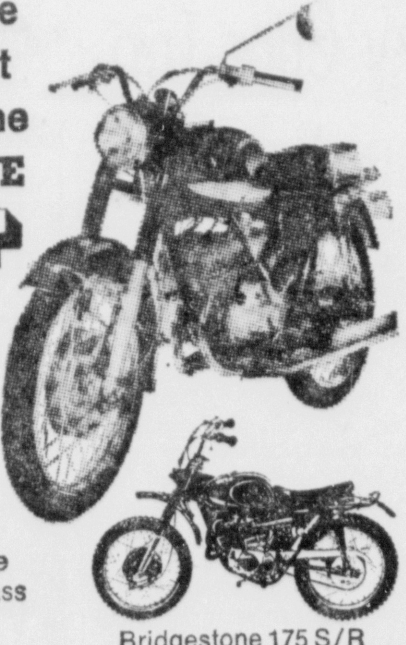

The annual Tri-Club tournament for golfers from the Escanaba Country Club, the Gladstone Golf Club and the Highland Golf Club was originally scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 26-27. It had to be changed because of the oldtimers tournament and will now be played sometime after the U. P. Men's Tournament, Aug. 2-9. The Tri-Club will be played at the Highland Golf Club this year.

One of the most consistent golfers during Twilight League play at the Highland Golf Club all season has been Bob Olson. Three weeks ago Bob turned in a pair of 42's for 18 holes, then had a pair of 40's last week and came out Tuesday night and carded two 41's.

Getting out of the local area, John Gregory broke his own course record for 18 holes at the Wawonowin Golf and Country Club at Ishpeming by putting together a pair of 35's for a 70; and a couple of weeks ago Fred Tormala became the youngest player to ever win the Portage Lake Golf and Country Club's Shortstop Tournament when he beat the defending champion, Dr. Jim Strong in the semifinals and Bill Peterson in the finals. Tormala is only 16 years old.

Here is another golf tip taken from pro golfer Frank Beard's "Shaving Strokes" book. When playing in blowing breezes, use the wind as an asset — not an irritable hindrance. Beard says he has more luck when he uses a little more club and uses a shorter, compact swing. He also says that whenever possible, get the ball into the wind. Never let it go with the wind. If the wind is blowing from left to right, you must hook the ball from right to left into the wind. In this way the ball and wind are counteracting forces and the net result is control. Don't fade unless the wind is from right to left. The wind can actually be your friend.

McCovey Tops All-Star Vote

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie McCovey, San Francisco home run slugger, topped the National League All-Star poll released today and newcomers Felix Millan of Atlanta and Cleon Jones of the New York Mets made the starting line-up as first time selectors.

McCovey, the Giants' first baseman, narrowly edged Hank Aaron, Atlanta's right fielder, 296-295 for the most votes cast in the annual balloting of players, coaches and managers.

The vote, announced by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, determined the eight starters (pitchers excluded) who will face the American League July 22 at Washington. The Nationals have won six in a row and hold a 21-17 edge in the series.

Managers Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals and Mayo Smith of the Detroit Tigers, the 1968 World Series rivals, will select the pitchers and other members of the 28-man squads to be announced in the next 10 days. Starters, except pitchers, must play at least the first three innings.

Santo Chosen

Millan's victory over Glenn Beckert, the highly regarded second baseman of the Chicago Cubs, was one of the most interesting developments. It was the closest contest on the ticket with Millan, making the squad for the second time, beating Beckert 137-110.

In the only other close competition, the Cubs were the winners when Ron Santo took third base over the challenge of Tony Perez of Cincinnati, 196-151.

Don Kessinger, the Cubs' shortstop, joined McCovey, Aaron and Santo as repeaters from 1968 by outdistancing Denis Menke of Houston 228-103.

Johnny Bench, Cincinnati's fine catcher, won in a breeze over Randy Hundley of the Cubs, 261-76. Only four catchers received votes and there were none for Jerry Grote of the Mets, the 1968 starter.

Matty Alou, Pittsburgh center fielder who leads the majors in hits was voted into the starting outfield with Aaron, named for the 15th time and fifth straight as a starter, and the Mets' Jones, who is the league's leading hitter.

Aaron Tops Fielders

McCovey was a big winner at first base with 296 votes to 33 for runnerup Lee May of Cincinnati.

The top three outfielders were Aaron 295, Alou 232, and Jones 152. Next best was Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, a four-time batting champ, with 56, followed by Cincinnati's Pete Rose, the 1968 batting king, with 53.

Willie Mays of the Giants, who holds a host of All-Star records, ranked sixth among the outfielders with only 49 votes but he undoubtedly will be picked to the team by Manager Schoendienst. It was Mays, in the unlikely role of a sub for ailing Pete Rose, who was the Most Valuable Player in last year's 1-0 National League win at Houston.

Dark Mirage won the 1968 triple crown for fillies, taking the Acorn, Mother Goose and Coaching Club American Oaks.

Tony Horton Not An All-Star, But He Beats Tigers Anyway

DETROIT (AP)—Tony Horton says he doesn't have a chance of being named to play in the upcoming All-Star Game.

But if American League All-Star manager, Mayo Smith, doesn't select him, maybe it will be more out of anger than anything else.

It was Horton's two-out, two-run single in the 11th off reliever Tom Timmerman, 0-1, that ruined Detroit's comeback bid and gave the Cleveland Indians a 7-5 win over Smith's Tigers.

"I don't think I have a Chinaman's chance to be named to the All-Star team," Horton said, putting together a sandwich in the Indians' dressing room.

Horton, who is one of the league's top clutch hitters with 62 runs batted in, was fifth in the recent voting by players for the July 22 All-Star starting lineup.

Cleveland had a 5-2 lead going

Babe Ruth Stars Win First Start In U.P. Tourney

MANISTIQUE — Don Davis pitched a one-hitter this morning as Escanaba's Babe Ruth League All-Star team posted a 4-0 victory over Iron Mountain No. 1 in the first game of the Upper Peninsula Babe Ruth League baseball tournament.

The victory sends Escanaba into the semi-final round Saturday at 10 a.m. against the winner of today's second game which matched Ishpeming against Iron Mountain No. 2.

Ironwood met Calumet at 3 p.m. and Manistique was scheduled against Bessemer at 5:30 p.m. in other first round contests. Finals of the tournament are scheduled at 4:30 p.m. Saturday with the winner advancing to the state tournament July 18-28 at L'Anse Creuse near Detroit.

Davis was in control throughout the entire game except for the sixth inning when Iron Mountain loaded the bases on two errors and a hit batsman with nobody out. Davis worked out of the jam, however, by retiring the side on an infield pop and two strikeouts.

The only hit he allowed was a bunt single in the second inning.

Escanaba scored in the first inning on an infield out by Richard Miketina, scoring Steve Sharkey, who had walked and moved up when Mike Cousineau walked and Davis was hit by a pitch. Miketina came home with the second run in the third inning on a wild pitch.

Rotary Nears League Title

Team	W	L
Rotary	6	0
Lions	6	1
Eagles	5	1
Kiwanis	4	3
Exchange	3	3
Credit Union	3	3
Bankers	1	6
VFW	0	7

Rotary Little Leaguers were rapidly closing in on the second half championship as they whipped the Bankers last night 9 to 6.

Only Credit Union stands in the way of an undefeated second half and one of the best won and lost season's records in the league's 19-year history.

With Matt Smith ready to pitch against Lloyd Strahl's Credit Union team Saturday night, the defending champion Rotary team is just two steps away from an unprecedented third straight championship.

Following Saturday's game the following boys are asked to report to John Chylek. They are John Dupont, Jeff McCloskey, Tim Gerue, Harold Krusic, Steve Thorin, Mike Smith, Tom Valind, and Steve Erickson.

In tonight's action, Exchange will be at Eagles.

Charles Holds British Lead

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (AP) — If the chewing gum holds out, Bob Charles figures he's in there with more than an even chance to win his second British Open Golf Championship right here where he picked up his first one in 1963.

The lanky left-hander from New Zealand, now living in Cleveland, Ohio, went into the third round of the prestige title play at seven-under-par 135, one shot ahead of Christy O'Connor of Ireland and a bit further ahead of other great players including a field of 11 Americans.

The gum-chewing habit is just another one the former bank clerk has picked up in the United States in addition to the habit of winning as much as $50,000 on the American circuit this year.

"I've found it helps," he said laconically.

"Oh, yes indeed."

Charles looked like he was spreading the field Thursday when he tacked a 69 onto his opening record 66 and was comfortably well away.

But then O'Connor, the 44-year-old Irishman who has knocked on the door to greatness so often, suddenly caught fire. He smashed around the front nine in 32 and came back in 33 for a new record on Lytham's very tight 6,848-yard, par 71 links on the shore of the Irish Sea.

Behind O'Connor with 138 were England's Tony Jacklin—again a product of the American circuit—and Alex Cargill, 28-year-old Yorkshireman just coming into his prime and having a good year.

Bill Casper at 140 was the nearest American.

Martin Sets Course Mark At Highland

Jerry Martin of Escanaba, who recently equaled the course record at Gladstone with a four-under-par 31 set a course record for Highland's new 18-hole layout Thursday night with a blistering four-under-par 67 in a tuneup round for this weekend's Highland Invitational tournament.

Martin had birdies on the par five third and sixth holes and on the par three seventh in an outgoing 32, also a record, and holed birdie putts on the par five 13th and par three 14th on the back nine.

His lone bogey of the round came on the par four 12th hole.

Playing with Martin were Jack Smith, who had 37-36-73; Mel Manske, 37-38-75, and Abe Milkovich, 38-38-76.

Festival Lost

MUSKEGON (AP) — The Seaway Festival in Muskegon this year lost approximately $8,000 during its nine-day round of festivities, the festival's treasurer says.

Ronald DeLong told the festival's board of directors that despite the losses there is enough money in a contingency fund to begin planning the 1970 festival.

Boone Takes Glum Backward Look At TV

By MEL HEIMER

BIG, LOW-KEY Richard Boone, the Californian who for four years now has lived in Hawaii — interrupting his sailing and fishing now and then to come Stateside and make some movie money — paused in New York just before planning back to the islands, and took a good, hard, thoughtful look at television today. He didn't see much.

"Of course, it depends on what TV aspect you take," he said. "The musical and variety shows, well, they're improved tremendously, which I suspect traces back to 'That Was the Week That Was.' The situation comedy and drama series? About the same as always, I'd judge.

"It's in the field of straight drama, serious plays and so on, that we come to a disaster area. It's so depressing that it makes you shudder. I honestly believe that if Studio One and Playhouse 90 were to be created now, at this particular time, they couldn't get on the air."

BOONE, of course, has credentials to qualify as at least a reasonable expert and critic. He has some 500 TV shows under his belt, including two years of "Medic" and six of "Have Gun, Will Travel." He has directed 37 television plays, including six on "The Richard Boone Show," the hour-long dramatic series that marked his last sizeable chunk of performing in the medium.

"We were trying to do something and we had good shows and fine casts," Boone remembers, "but we only lasted a year. Maybe you wouldn't believe the program, the one we were backing in the time slot that sank us: 'Petticoat Junction.' All we could figure was, those Nielsen meters must have been located in an odd area."

RICHARD BOONE is sticking pretty much to movie these days, but he took time out to do an anti-smoking documentary for the U. S. Public Health Service.

His withdrawal from television has been almost complete. As a favor to a friend, he did one "Cimarron Strip," and a few months back he got hip-deep in a documentary for the U.S. Public Health Service called "The Mark Waters Story," an anti-smoking tape you may be seeing one of these months if there's an ETV station in your neighborhood.

"I DON'T think I ever will return to TV regularly," Boone said, "even if someone laid a gilt-edged, marvelous series in front of me. It's just as simple as — what can it do for me? TV really helped build my career, it gave me a lot of money in the bank and I learned a great deal in technique and discipline from it.

"But now — well, I've done all that, and I don't see the sense in returning to do some more."

Just finished work in two major films, "The Kremlin Letters" and "The Arrangement," Boone misses only one thing about TV, compared with movies — the pace. "Doing only one or two movie scenes a day drives me up the wall," he said candidly. He, his wife, the former Claire McAloon, a one-time ballet dancer, and their son Peter, live on the main island of Hawaii, although Peter goes to school across the water in Honolulu.
